Express your understanding of the IOG person you researched by choosing ONE menu item below.

This is your opportunity to be creative, so seize the day! ☺

Advice Column What can others learn from your IOG person? Imagine your IOG person has a column in the newspaper. Write at least two "Dear Abbey," questions and answers in which you answer as the IOG person commenting on his/her area of expertise. "No enemy is worse than bad advice." -Sophocles	Mix CD To what kind of music would your IOG person listen? Design a CD case that includes a playlist of ten songs and cover artwork. The songs could be modern hits or period music. "You can't change the music of your soul." -Katharine Hepburn	3-D What can you create to show your IOG person's gifts? Make a model, mobile, or sculpture that shows what s/he did or could have created. "I sometimes wonder if the hand is not more sensitive to the beauties of sculpture than the eye. I should think the wonderful rhythmical flow of lines and curves could be more subtly felt than seen... I know that I can feel the heart-throbs of the ancient Greeks in their marble gods and goddesses." -Helen Keller
Songbird What would a song about your IOG person sound like? Write lyrics to a song about him/her to a tune of a song you know or a tune you compose. Record the song so we can enjoy it again and again. "Songs are funny things. They can slip across borders. Proliferate in prisons. Penetrate hard shells. I always believed that the right song at the right moment could change history." -Pete Seeger	Poetry in Motion What would a poem written by or about your IOG person say? Create a 10+ line poem that expresses an important message from his/her life. Option: use a BioPoem format. "I grew up in this town, my poetry was born between the hill and the river, it took its voice from the rain, and like the timber, it steeped itself in the forests." -Pablo Neruda	Actions Speak Louder... What is the pivotal moment in the life of your IOG person? Write a script and reenact an important moment from his/her life. Create a video so you can show it over and over. "We are in the black theater of nonexistence. In an eye blink the curtain is up, the stage ablaze, for the vast drama of ourselves." -Herman Wouk
A Letter To... To whom would your IOG person write? Create a letter in the voice of him/her to a person past or present. Think about what s/he might have to say about history and significant events. "A Letter always seemed to me like Immortality, for is it not the Mind alone, without corporeal friend?" -Emily Dickinson	Extra! Extra! What would newspapers have reported about a significant event in your IOG person's life? Create a front-page spread of a fictional newspaper. Be sure to look at a real newspaper for format ideas. "A newspaper is lumber made malleable. It is ink made into words and pictures. It is conceived, born, grows up and dies of old age in a day." -Jim Bishop	Face to Face What does your IOG person have to say? Write a dialogue between him/her and another person reflecting about a significant event s/he experienced. "True heroism is remarkably sober, very undramatic. It is not the urge to surpass all others at whatever cost, but the urge to serve others, at whatever cost." -Arthur Ashe
